Teen vandals terrorize tavern

by GLORIA DAVIS

The teenage harassment and vandalism has started again in Channel Lake now that the weather has gotten warm again and it seems to be centered in the area of Vi's Yellow Bird Lounge on Rte. 173.

Last year young teenagers were vandalizing cars that were in the lounge's parking lot.

This year the kids are going a step further and at least two women are fighting mad and bound and determined "not to be beaten by these kids," even though they claim that the sheriff's department is doing nothing about it.

Vi Johantgen, owner of the lounge, said that she had left for a meeting in Chicago at 6 p.m., on Tuesday, June 6, and didn't return until early the next morning. When she opened the drapes covering one of her picture windows she found a bullet hole in the window.

"It's terrible, I can't take another summer of this," said Johantgen.

"My husband and I worked so hard to buy this place and now I wish I had put the money in the bank instead," she added.

Although she sounds desperate, Johantgen has by no means given up.

"I have a permit for a gun and I'll use it," she said serving and edict on the vandals.

Both Johantgen and her neighbor Maureen Polenik are trying to start a citizen's watch committee since the police say that nothing can be done until the perpetrators are caught in the act.

Polenik, who moved into the area with her family a year ago, had trouble with the same kids, having had eight tires slashed on her cars while they were parked in her driveway, had things tossed into her automobiles' gas tanks, a statue stolen from her yard and had the same kids try to run her children over with a truck.

She said she has reported all these things to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. and nothing has been done about it.

Polenik claims that she knows who the kids are. Some of them have moved from the area but seem to be returning now.

She reported that the group consists of two girls 14 or 15 years old, a boy 13 and some other stragglers. They congregate in the area of the bridge on Rte. 173.

Polenik added that the parents have been told about the things their children are doing but pay no attention, claiming that the victims are "crazy."

Johantgen also said that cars are ripping through her parking lot, scattering the gravel all over until it becomes a mud hole.

State liquor statute still not violated here

At the last regular meeting of the Antioch Village Board, when the matter was brought up, Mayor Ray Toft said that the board would deal with the problem of any member of the board being in violation of the state statute banning board tenancy by anyone who is indirectly connected with the ownership of a liquor license when and if the violation takes place.

This was said in reference to the fact newly elected trustee Bob Wilton's wife is listed as one of the owners of a new restaurant that is due to open at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 59 sometime in July.

Leta Wilton and her partners purchased Thompson's Restaurant, business, liquor license, etc. in April, but to date, although remodeling is in full swing at the Rte. 59 location, have only requested a zoning variance to change the use of the building from that of a Western Auto Store to that of a restaurant.

Although it is expected that they will soon ask the board to change the location of the liquor license from Thompson's in the near future, Toft said the board could not act until that request was made.

The changing of the location of a liquor license is common practice and nothing unusual in Antioch.

Wilton, when contacted later, saying that he had not been told officially by anyone that he was in violation of a state statute added, after saying that there could be no violation until liquor was actually being served, "I don't know that I am in violation and that's all I'm going to say."

Wilton and Mabel Lou Weber, who also may be under the same gun because of her employment at the Antioch Bowl, refrained from voting on the variance change.

Bucar gives nice show of championship for GOP

by ROGER RUTHHART
Manager Editor

Did you ever notice how people make a double take when someone under 40 makes a name for themselves in politics? I guess party people wonder if that whipper-snapper has paid his dues; carried the water to the elephant or whatever.

In Lake County the Young Republicans are hoping to put an end to that. Their goal is to get people between the ages of 18 and 36 active in the political system.

Much of the credit for the organization of Lake County Young Republicans goes to County Chairman Bob Neal who, throughout the process, has encouraged the activities of YR. The party and Republican Federation have even offered them office space at Waukegan headquarters.

The result, according to YR President Jim Bucar of Antioch, is "a nice show of companionship — one group under one roof working for the same goals."

The big test however, said Bucar, still remains: That is to see how the party faithfuls respond. "They've said they want to help, so now we'll see. Of course our intentions are to help them in return."

Young Republicans provides an activity in which members can acquire a basic understanding of the difference between the two major political parties. It also hopes to cultivate future candidates and party leaders.

Bucar said the YR's plan to get involved working for candidates in the future. They won't be endorsing candidates, but rather will follow the endorsements of the senior party. Right now the concern is to get the group organized and active. Efforts are toward membership rather than politics.

Locally, the group is well on its way toward reaching its goals. A phone bank has been used to encourage township chairman and party leadership to look to their committeemen to look in their precinct or village for individuals who might be interested in YR.

"There's been a pretty good reception. There's no anti-youth sentiment. They've taken us seriously," said Bucar.

Current officers include Bucar, Vice President Bill Gill of Zion, Corresponding Sec. Tony Pastella of Waukegan, Recording Sec. Carol Fischer of Libertyville and Treasurer Veda Moretti of Highland Park. Other members include notables like State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) and State Senator David Barkhausen (R-Waukegan).

Membership goal has been set at 100 by the group's July meeting and they're well on their way toward the goal. When they surpassed 60 members early this year, they became the third largest YR group in the state and in only their first year.

Participation by local members in the state organization has itself been an education in politics, Bucar admitted.

"Since we've been growing, they've (state organization) taken an active interest in us," said Bucar. He noted that for many members, Young Republicans provides the first exposure to group dynamics and political organizations.

Bucar admits that since the membership statewide is made up of potential future politicians, there's a lot of "politics" involved in the state organization, it's committees and even the inner working of other county organizations. That's something that local YR's haven't been involved with and hope doesn't enter into how their local group is run.

"Right now we want to get young people into the group and educate them on Republicanism and provide a channel through which young people can enter into the senior party," said Bucar. "We want to maintain their interest."

"We hope to be able to cultivate future candidates and leaders. No doubt some present members will run for office in the future, but that's not a main priority now," said Bucar.

"But for those who do have political ambitions, and there are quite a few, Young Republicans will hopefully provide the background and contacts and help them pay their dues. Realistically, I guess that's a part of it," said Bucar.

Membership dues are $5 yearly and the group meets monthly at locations throughout the county.

Antioch Baha'is welcome statement

The Baha'is of Antioch Township welcomed President Reagan's statement deploring the persecution of their co-religionists in Iran. The President released a statement wherein he deplored the persecution of the Baha'is in Iran and urged other world leaders to join his appeal to Iranian authorities to commute the death sentences of 19 Baha'is who await execution.

"We are grateful to the President, especially for calling on other world leaders to join his appeal," said Ray Fechtner, chairman of the Antioch Baha'i Community. "The lives of

The Baha'is of Antioch Township and around the world have held special prayer sessions for the persecuted Baha'is in Iran. The United States Government, in the last session of Congress, passed a joint Congressional resolution in support of other oppressed Baha'is in Iran.

"Despite signs to the contrary," continued Fechtner, "Iran is sensitive to world public opinion. Who can imagine what greater violence would be directed against the Baha'is if Iran were ignored by the rest of the world? Our voices do make a difference."

Smoke detectors required by new Antioch law

All Antioch residents are now required by an ordinance passed at the last regular meeting of the village board to have a smoke detector in their homes as are multi-family dwellings, apartments and commercial enterprises.

The smoke detectors can be battery operated in existing homes but must be electrically operated in new homes, existing and new multi-family dwellings and apartments.

Anyone presently living in the village, who does not have a smoke detector, is technically in violation and can be fined $500 plus $25 each day the violation continues.

Although the board admitted that the ordinance would be hard to enforce in private homes, Fire Chief Todd Mapletorpe said that commercial establishments were open to fire inspection.

When I think about it It's time to judge judges

by GLORIA DAVIS

For quite a while law enforcement agencies and citizens have been blaming many of the judges that sit on the benches of our court system in cases where convicted felons are either given sentences deemed too light or let go with a slap on the hand and/or probation.

But lately there have been citizen groups monitoring trials that are taking place to let the judges know that their decisions and the penalties that they are handing down are being well and loudly noted.

Could this be a good way to help the electorate become more informed on the "Gods" that hold so many futures in their hands, including the future of the man on the street when a dangerous person is sent back into society unpunished?

Recently a Milwaukee judge serving in the Kenosha County Circuit Court system announced that he would no longer sit on Kenosha's bench.

Judge Frederick Kessler, who did so after much criticism from Kenosha County District Atty. Robert Zapf and other factions, because of his "too lenient decisions," charged Zapf with "wanting convictions too much."

Kessler and other courts have charged Zapf with withholding evidence from the defense in more than one case.

Zapf is refusing to comment on these charges while they are under consideration by the attorney general so that situation seems to be on hold.

It is Judge Kessler's charges that the groups that are sitting in on the court proceedings are dangerous and meant to coerce the judges, that I take issue with.

Would a judge, confident in the justice of his decision or any penalty he imposes, care how public those moves were made?

Might not such monitoring make some heretofore careless judges who thought of themselves as "untouchable," more carefully consider the righteousness of sentences they pronounce when it may cost them votes in the next judicial election?

Of course no one wants a judge's decision to be based solely on vote garnering but such monitoring might pull the blindfold off of the voter rather than "pulling the blindfold off of the Statue of Justice," as Kessler charges.

Maybe a little more publicity given to incumbent judges' decisions will help voters be more certain where they want to put that all important X on the next judicial ballot casted?

After all one of those he votes for might someday bang the gavel on a decision that will effect his own personal life.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Oops! Jennifer Biel deserves congrats for being on the dean's list not for graduating since she is still an underclassman.

But Robin McCarley deserves plaudits three times over. It seems Robin was inducted into Phi Sigma Iota, a romance language honor fraternity at Lake Forest College, is on the dean's list there and was chosen the outstanding freshman chemistry student.

I hear from Los Angeles that Antioch has a real honest to goodness famous author to its credit. Elda Minger, a 1972 graduate of Antioch High School, has just had a new book published.

The book is titled "The Untamed Heart" and is this month's special issue of Harlequin Romances. More about Elda later.

Accolades to Courtney Sutton who was selected most valuable gymnastics student at Antioch High School. Sorry Courtney that your name was not listed along with the high school's other MVPs.

Deepest sympathies are extended to Dr. W. C. Petty and his family over the passing of Dr. Petty's sister, Mrs. Ruby Richey Erwin in Sumner.

Mrs. Erwin will be remembered by many Antioch High School alumnae since she taught home economics there from 1926 to 1939. Her son Paul Richey is living in New Jersey.

It looks like Carmel High School graduate Michelle Moser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moser, is headed for Carthage College in Kenosha in September.

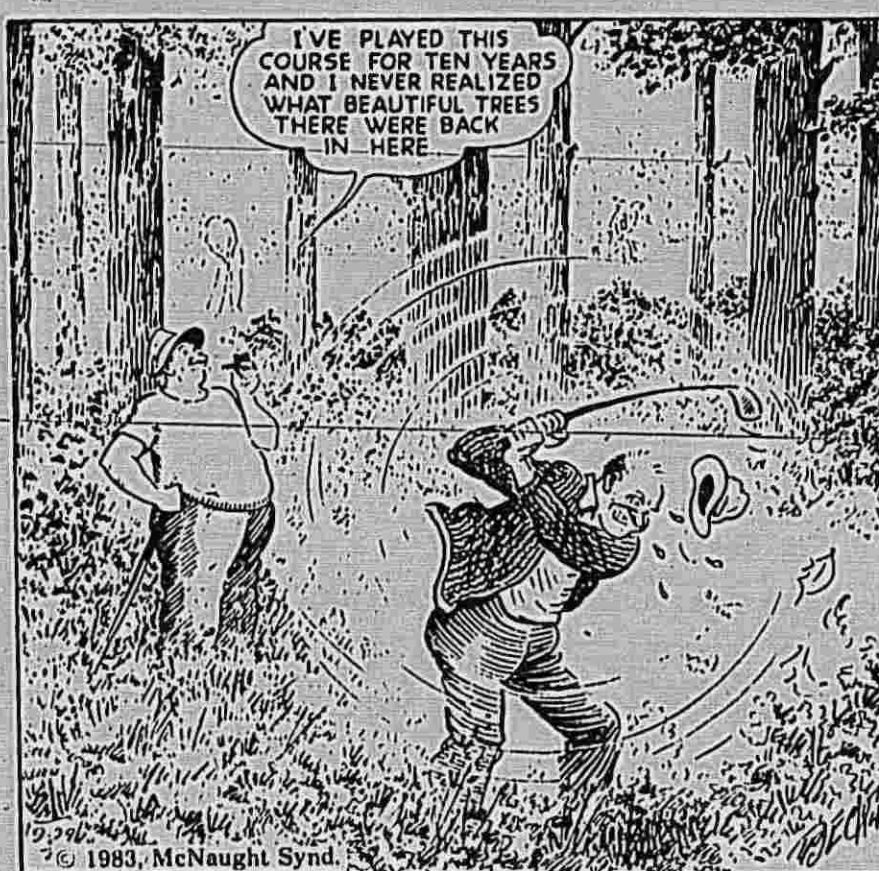

Mike Anderson, son of Leo and Susan Anderson, has just gotten finished with Army basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Postmaster Mary Ann DeRemer tells me that she will be transferring to the regional mail center in Norristown, Pa., as of July 1, as a supervisor.

And it's wedding bells for our postmaster as she and her fiancé, who is an executive with a baking company, will be married this summer and take up permanent residence in the east.

An officer in charge will take over the Antioch Post Office pending the appointment of a new postmaster.

Fox Riverfront group approves regional agency

An Illinois legislative proposal for creation of a regional agency of government to manage the Fox River and Chain of Lakes between Algonquin and the Wisconsin line has won unanimous approval of the Fox Riverfront Federation.

The bill now being considered by the legislature would cause a public referendum of resident voters on the shores of the river and lakes to decide whether a Fox River Waterway Management Agency should be created.

The proposal is sponsored by the Chain of Lakes-Fox River Commission, a legislative body chaired by State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-Cary), State Representatives Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake) and Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) members of the legislative commission with Schaffer, are co-sponsors of the waterway management agency proposal with Schaffer.

The Fox Riverfront Federation, an alliance of 90 residential, commercial and political subdivisions lying along both banks of the Fox River between the McHenry and Algonquin Dams, endorsed the proposed agency creation during its quarterly meeting on Wednesday evening at the Algonquin Township Hall.

Riverfront Federation President Pat Dinsmore and Trustee Don Costa presented the legislative proposal to the membership as "our greatest abiding hope that some day in the relatively near future, one instrument of government made up of waterfronters can begin to assume the responsibility of saving our Fox River system from otherwise certain death by degradation into a mudflat or swamp."

Costa reminded the federation that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers predicted at a federation meeting last fall that every river, from the mighty Colorado to the tiny Fox, is doomed by its dams to deteriorate into a mudflat or swamp through collection of silt by those dams. Present mud and sand shoaling of the river and channels in the Chain of Lakes bear out the Corps of Engineers' grim prediction.

The legislative proposal being considered in Springfield calls for a referendum to approve or disapprove the establishment of the regional agency to be administered by six directors and a chairman elected from McHenry and Lake Counties. The agency would have authority to plan, implement and regulate programs and rules to improve and maintain the waterway from flooding and for boating and kindred summer and winter sports.

Any proposed bonding or revenue-raising acts of the agency, such as for dredging or recreational facility development would be subject to prior approval by referendum in the region.

TEETH CARE DURING PREGNANCY

QUESTION:

Are there special guidelines for taking care of teeth while pregnant?

ANSWER:

Since your teeth are part of your total health at any time, it makes sense to do all the right things for them while pregnant as well. This would include eating a diet rich in body-building nutrients and minerals and follow-through on regular dental checkups. A visit to the dentist between the 4th and 6th month might be easiest to negotiate if the patient is past the early discomfort and not yet finding it difficult to maneuver physically as the later months. Sometimes hormonal changes can make gums puffy and plaque accumulation can cause bleeding. A professional cleaning and follow-up are essential.

There are some precautions to consider during this time: any use of an anesthesia or aspirin should be administered with the mutual approval of dentist or obstetrician, and dental x-rays should be taken only in an emergency, and then only with a protective lead apron.

Urge get into swim

With drowning accidents being the number two cause of death in children under five, swimming lessons should be on the high priority list for this summer.

The Antioch Parks and Recreation Aqua Center Staff is ready and anxious to meet the needs for a happy and safe summer this year.

Swimming lessons will be taught over a period of six weeks in three sessions. Times for lessons have been altered since last year and will be as follows: Class A, 10 to 10:40 a.m., at stations six and seven (intermediate and swimmers); Class B, 10:45 to 11:25 a.m., stations one for beginner and advanced beginner swimmers to improve class-teacher ratio.

There are two class times

4-H'ers can win scholarship

Former 4-H members interested in a career in the fashion industry are eligible for a $3,000 scholarship award recently donated by the Tob-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York City.

According to the National 4-H Council, the Cooperative Extension Service will select the first scholarship recipient this fall. In 1984 the winner will enroll in a 10-month program at the fashion school in New York. The program emphasizes marketing, merchandising and management through classroom participation, industry seminars and cooperative work experience.

Application forms for the new scholarship are available from the Lake County Extension Office, 33020 N. Hwy. 45, Grayslake, IL 60030. Selection will be based on the applicant's expressed interest in a fashion career, leadership abilities, 4-H experience, scholastic record and financial need.

In establishing the scholarship, Ann Z. Wareham, president, Tob-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, said, "It is a great satisfaction to me to establish this scholarship in fashion merchandising and marketing for a 4-H participant. As I see it, the 4-H participant already has been groomed toward achieving those goals of excellence for which this institution is noted. He or she would be well suited to the type of highly structured and carefully disciplined program that is part of the Tob-Coburn Experience."

More than a quarter of a million dollars in scholarships are awarded annually to current and former 4-H members in programs arranged by the National 4-H Council and supported by private sector donors. 4-H is the youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service of the state land-grant universities and the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

More information about the 4-H program is available at the Lake County Extension Office.

Foreman realigns office

State's Attorney Fred Foreman has announced the appointment of Matthew Chancey as chief of the misdemeanor division and Steye McCollum as chief of the juvenile division in the Lake County State's Attorney's office.

Peter Trobe has been appointed to fill the vacancy of Felony Division Chief Michael Duffy, who has entered private practice.

Raymond McKoski remains as chief deputy state's attorney in the criminal division and Gary Neddenriep remains as chief deputy state's attorney in the civil division.

Henry Caldwell presently serves as chief deputy state's attorney assigned to the liquor commission and the county board.

Former Juvenile Division Chief Barbara Gilleran-Johnson, who served two years as chief of the juvenile division, has been reassigned as the chief prosecutor in the felony courtroom.

The promotions within the state's attorney's office invoke State's Attorney Foreman's philosophy of promoting existing staff to vacant supervisory positions.

All supervisors except McCollum and Caldwell have served under prior state's attorney as assistants. Barbara Johnson was appointed by Foreman to head the juvenile division in 1981 and has served well during that time.

Announce boosts in sheriff's dept.

Citing further reorganization changes for the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., six deputies were named to major supervisory posts, Sheriff Robert H. Babcox has announced.

Promoted were: Capt. Eugene McGaughey, Lt. James McGarvie, Lt. Francis Winans, Sgt. Willie Smith, Deputy Stanley Schabowicz, Corp. Kurt Prochowitz.

Named to chief of operations is Capt. Eugene McGaughey, who will oversee the investigations and highway patrol divisions. Capt. McGaughey was formerly chief of the highway patrol.

Lt. McGarvie was selected to be deputy chief of the highway patrol. McGarvie was previously assigned as the afternoon shift commander.

Lt. Winans will be deputy chief of support services. Lt. Winans was formerly chief investigator.

Sgt. Smith, who was a supervisor in the investigations division, was appointed deputy chief of investigations. Deputy Schabowicz was named deputy chief of management services.

"These appointments will enhance the professionalism of the department and in turn, better serve the people of Lake County," Babcox said. "Emphasis will be focused on increased credibility and improving relations with the public," he added.

In China, at one time, there were 3,000 rules of conduct to be learned and obeyed.

Premium book now available

42 public schools join computer group

Forty-two public and non-public schools in Lake County have joined the Lake County Computer Technology Consortium.

The consortium was developed through the Office of the Regional Superintendent of Schools and will be funded by the participating districts and the State of Illinois. The consortium was formed to assist participating school districts in developing plans to utilize micro computers in their instructional programs as well as provide technical assistance.

A software lending library and software evaluation model will be available to member districts. An additional benefit of the consortium will be the opportunity it will offer to share expertise and experience with other districts involved in instructional computer programs.

The recently hired director of the consortium, Dr. Howard Allen Davis, received his PhD from the University of Wisconsin.

Home builders form reference bureau

The Home Builders Assn. of Lake County has announced the formation of a Reference Bureau effective June 15.

The Reference Bureau was established in response to a need which the Association feels has existed for many years in Lake County.

In effect, it establishes an independent organization where the public can inquire in confidence about builders, remodelers, mechanical contractors and suppliers, the whole range of construction specialties.

All members of the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County Reference Bureau must be insured and have their policies on file, agree to adhere to sound building practices and follow the Code of Ethics of the National Assn. of Home Builders and the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County.

Potential members are carefully screened by a reviews committee.

The Reference Bureau is made up of more than 50 classifications of members, carpenters, plumbers, heating and air conditioning firms, insulation contractors, window suppliers, masons, excavators, concrete contractors, lending institutions and much more.

Any aspect of construction or remodeling is covered.

When an inquiry is received from the public, the Reference Bureau will compile a list of its qualified members in each category and send it to the party requesting the information. The reply will be in strict confidence, no one will call or contact them.

The information supplied will include the names of the firms, addresses and telephone numbers, persons to contact and how long the firm has been active.

All information is available at no charge.

Inquiries may be directed to the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County Reference Bureau, 1312 W. Washington St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085 or call (312) 336-1999.

Classic deadline

A little over a week remains to register for the seventh annual Condell Distance Classic and the accompanying Sports Medicine Weekend.

The Condell Distance Classic is a 6.2 mile race sponsored by Condell Memorial Hospital as a means of promoting good health to the general public.

This year's co-sponsors include: Lakeland Publishers, FM 100, Joyce Bottling Co., American Airlines, and Travel and More.

THE MAIN race begins at Highland School in Libertyville at 8:00 a.m. on Sunday, June 26.

A one mile fitness run begins at 8:05 a.m.

Age classes for the Classic include: 13 years and under, 14 to 19 years, 20 to 29 years, 30 to 39 years, 40 to 49 years, 50 years and over, and a cardiac division for the runner with a history of heart problems (physician's approval required).

There are also team divisions.

THE FIRST registered male and female to cross the finish line win round trip airfare to Honolulu to compete in the Honolulu Marathon on Dec. 11.

In addition, a third ticket to Honolulu will be awarded by a random drawing of all registrants.

Additional awards will be presented to the first three male and first three female finishers in each age group, compliments of Adidas and Condell Memorial Hospital.

While there will be no awards for the one mile fitness run, all finishers will receive a ribbon for competing.

In addition, Condell is offering two programs on topics related to the run.

On Friday, June 24, there will be a relaxing evening of movies and exhibits at Libertyville High School at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, June 25, there will be a program featuring discussions on stretching and flexibility, arthroscopy, multisport training, gait analysis and distance running. This program begins at 9 a.m. at Condell and concludes at 11 a.m. with an athlete's brunch.

REGISTRATION forms for all these events are available in Condell's public relations department and at the following pick-up points: Dominicks in Vernon Hills, Jewel in Libertyville, The Sportsman in Libertyville, The Complete Athlete in Evanston and Chicago, and at all local Athlete's Foot stores.

For more information call (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275.
